

Resources for Mental Health CRISIS

“I am so glad you told me, I won’t leave your side until you are safe.”

Take them to the nearest emergency department or mental health facility. Explain the situation, and do not leave the person alone until they are being cared for by the medical staff.

If appropriate, offer to call family members to notify them of the colleagues situation and location.

